

CSA AFFILIATIONS BYELAW

Approved by the CSA Board on 9th June 2006

A paddler can only race for one club in one Union. He can join other clubs in the same or other Unions as a "second claim" member. The second club will not register the paddler with the Union or CSA and the paddler may not race in the colours of his second club.

If a paddler moves to an area under the jurisdiction of a Union different to that through which he is already registered, then he must join a club in the new Union once he has been ordinarily resident in that area for three months. This period may be waived by a club committee should special circumstances prevail.

Canoe numbers – 5 digit number system.

Number series 1000 to 99999 , the first digit indicating the Province. Digits to be minimum of 125 mm high, black on white. [July05]

Gauteng	- 1000 to 3499 and 10000 to 34999
Eastern Cape	- 4000 to 4999 and 40000 to 49999
Western Cape	- 5000 to 5999 and 50000 to 59999
KwaZulu Natal	- 6000 to 9999 and 60000 to 99999
Central Districts	- 3500 to 3999 and 35000 to 39999

Once issued a number is never reallocated and the paddler retains the number for life even if they change province or remain unregistered for a period.[July 05]

Family membership. Where there are two normally registered members of one family, one of which must be a senior, the third and subsequent members of the same family may registered by their Union free of charge with CSA. This, as long as they fall into the U21 or younger age-groups and are not in full-time employment. A family unit is defined as Parent/Parents and offspring or legally adopted dependants. [July 05]

Affiliation fees

Each Provincial Union of CSA shall pay an annual membership fee calculated on the number of members in the Union.

This fee shall be payable to CSA quarterly on production of an invoice from CSA based on the registered membership of each Union as determined by the national database at the end of June, September, December and March. Fees will be payable the end of the following month.

Failure to pay the affiliation fees by the due dates will result in a penalty in the form of interest, calculated on the amount outstanding. The interest will be that earned by CSA at fixed investment rates plus 2%.

In addition the CSA Executive Committee has the power to suspend the Provincial Union.
